RestaurantSelect: Your Resource for Meeting Planning

We maintain a database of premier restaurants eager to host all your meeting needs. These restaurants cater to the business customer and are ready to work with groups. Whether you need to arrange a meeting across town or across the country, and whether you schedule one meeting a month or one a day, RestaurantSelect will connect you to the perfect restaurants for your needs.

Our system enables you to collect competitive bids from multiple restaurants to find the best prices for your events. You can create detailed event proposals that include size needs, menu requirements, and special requests. Instead of spending valuable time on the telephone, making the same requests over and over, you can create your proposal and sit back to watch your selected restaurants compete for your business.

With RestaurantSelect, you can satisfy all your meeting needs via a direct, reliable process. This means that you can consolidate your planning resources, drive the meeting-planning process, maintain consistency in your meeting policies, and focus on what matters most: holding valuable, effective meetings.
